About IETE

The Institution of Electronics and Telecommunication Engineers (IETE) is India's leading professional Institution. Established in 1953 by a group of pioneers in the field of Electronics, Telecommunications and related disciplines, IETE has now more than 60,000 members spread all over India and abroad. IETE, through its members at 64 Centres, provides leadership in a number of scientific and technical areas of direct importance to national development and to the nation's economy. IETE focuses on advancing information related to electronics and emerging technologies and pursues socially relevant programs in these fields. It conducts and sponsors Technical conferences, Symposia and Forums, publishes technical papers and provides continuing education to its Degree and Diploma student members. The Degree and Diploma Courses have wide ranging recognitions from MHRD, Universities and other professional bodies.

Diamond Jubilee Year

IETE has entred in its sixtieth year, the Diamond Jubilee year and has gained status of eminence in the country for spreading technical education to unreachable and at the same time bringing thousands of Professionals (educationist, academicians, researchers, scientists, technocrats, administrators, industrialists, students) under its umbrella. IETE has almost every one, who's – who in Electronics, Telecom and allied fields, in its fold. Sixty years have really brought reputation, grace and pride to IETE. It has been one of the few professional societies in India which besides being student centric also dwells upon technical issues of national and societal importance.

IETE Hyderabad Centre

IETE Hyderabad Centre, started on 11th September, 1973 has completed 39 years and is growing up. It was declared as Best Centre/Best Local Centre in India during the years 1992- 93, 1994-95, 1995-96, 1996-97, 1999- 2000 and Best Performance Centre Award for the year 2003 - 2004. The IETE Hyderabad Centre has Corporate and Student Members. Hyderabad Centre has proudly undertaken to host and organize the 44th Mid-Term Symposium on 20th, 21st & 22nd April, 2013 on behalf of HQ IETE, New Delhi.
